Course Organization & Structure

Highlight:

The course followed a clear structure. It allotted decent amount of class time to group presentations. Contents were connected and logically ordered. Instructor was well-prepared and coherent. The deadlines were generous and spaced out reasonably. The guest speaker was impressive and highly recommended. In general, I felt the coursework was absolutely manageable in terms of workload and rhythm.

Suggestion:

The attendance QR code could have been used with better timing to avoid premature exit. The weekly readings felt somewhat disjointed and independent from the slides. The group presentation could have been shorter so there might be more time for discussions and engagement.

---

Clarity of Instruction

Highlight:

The instructor bilingual proficiency, though not always necessary, contributed to her clear and straightforward explanation of certain concept and material. She succeeded in incorporating anecdotes, examples, analogies into her lectures to help us understand. I appreciate her dedicating an entire lecture on the final project. Her detailed instructions really put people 's mind at ease. Plus, her addition of documentary assisted her lectures in a very meaningful way.

Suggestion:

The deadline for the final project could have been provided earlier. The weekly discussion post did require more reminders because such assessment is uncommon in the program. More creative and diverse uses of visual aids (YouTube seminars, documentaries, videos etc.) are welcomed.

---

Engagement

Highlight:

The instructor created an inclusive, free and equal environment for discussions and even debates. Attendees were at liberty in sharing their views with the class. She made frequent efforts to intrigue students with real-world issues, which interested me into more thinking. I feel mentally engaged with not just her, but with others. She would ask questions to us. She even held a short debate once to encourage critical thinking and constructive involvement.

Suggestion:

Debate should be introduced more. Some hot-button issues were left out, which could have invited more discussions and deeper reflection. Only a few voices dominated the discussions. The group who was doing the presentation rarely engaged with the class. There should be a better form of online discussion assessment.

Feedback & Assessment

Highlight:

Her feedback on our group presentations were clear, constructive, and timely. She gave good and fair judgement on the overall performance. She was candid and straightforward. What she emphasized in the presentation assessment reflected her commitment to improve group 's skills in delivery and public speaking, which I found such opportunities valuable and endeavor admirable. Her rubrics and criteria are easy to follow and clearly provided in advance. The design for the final project was quite innovative and insightful.

Suggestion:

The weekly discussion post could have been more complementary and connected to the course content. The bonus points for students who actively participate in the class were difficult to quantify. There should be better ways to measure class participation other than attendance, which was more about the occurrence than the quality.

---

Supportiveness & Accessibility

Highlight:

She was very supportive to the students. Her professionalism was delivered in a kind and accessible manner. She responded emails fast. She was not shy away from after-class discussions and Q&A. Her office hour proved to be very rewarding. In addition, she acted as a mentor. She graciously and generously shared us many advices on life, work, and study.

Suggestion:

None.

---

Overall Impression:

The instructor set herself apart from other professors within the program. Students adored her and wanted to chat with her. The course itself was very meaningful. The topic couldn ' t been more rewarding. I really enjoyed her class and company. I would not hesitate to take her class once again. She was an amazing instructor.
